DESCRIPTION – IN A PARAGRAPH, HOW WOULD YOU DESCRIBE THE PROJECT TO SOMEONE?

MAPSC strives to promote interprofessional collaboration in clinical, educational, and social settings. In order to further this mission, we would like to find new ways to allow all of our members and collaborators to feel welcomed and celebrated. One way that we have considered doing this is by opening our End-of-Year Banquet to all members and collaborators. Previously, this event has been held off campus with only board members and faculty advisors. However, we believe that holding this event on campus and broadcasting it to a much larger audience will allow for everyone involved in this organization to feel more integrated. We want the event to be a celebration of everything that has been accomplished during the year, and many of these accomplishments would not be possible without our collaborators and members.

WHAT ARE THE FOUR COMPONENTS OF THE PROJECT?

Structural: logistics related to catering, reserving a space on campus, and organization of the event

Human resources: reaching out to all members and collaborators to promote the event and drive participation

Political: board members working together to divide responsibilities and complete all tasks

Symbolic: using the event as a way to celebrate the accomplishments of MAPSC over the past year, inspiring future progress

HOW WILL YOU MEASURE SUCCESS?

We will measure success based on the amount of members and collaborators that attend the End-of-Year Banquet along with overall satisfaction. We will ask the attendees to submit any feedback that they may have in an anonymous form so that we can make improvements for future years.
